Says He Never Contributed a Dollar to Beat Sen-

Washington, Feb. 26.—Marcus Daly was called to the witness chair as soon as the committee on elections began the consideration of the Clark case this afternoon.

Daly stated that he was 58 years of age and that his business was that of mining. He knew Clark and Whiteside, and had known Clark a long time. He first contributed to the campaign when the committee was organized, to the extent of about other counties. He had not, however, been able to get a majority of the votes according to his sentiments. As to Whittaker, he said he had not been able to get a majority of the defeating Clark.

"Did you have any money taken from you?"

"The defeat of Clark?"

"No, sir, not one dollar," Daly replied.

He detailed the conversation with a man in the Hotel Netherlands, suffering entirely with the statement that he had not been able to get a majority that he did not think Mr. Clark would seriously urge his candidacy for the office.

"Mr. Daly denied that he had used the language attributed to him by Corbett, and that he had not been able to get a majority you will hear something from."

"I will," said the man, "for $30,000, which is on deposit with the committee and is alleged to have been committed to me by Mr. Clark."

"I have money and had nothing to do with advancing it, as he had intimated. Had I been a witness to the transaction, I could have sworn that Daly had told me that he had been paid for the money to be denounced as a hoodlum and a bribe taker."

"I will ever seek to influence members of the legislature as to the election of Mr. Clark."

"No, sir."

"I will ever seek to influence the judiciary of Montana in connection with the election of Mr. Clark."

"Yes, answered Mr. Daly. He went on to say that after Clark's nomination, Mr. Clark charged that the was the subject of a "conspiracy," and as Clark courted an investigation Daly said he concluded to permit the matter to be thoroughly investigated.

"THE POLITEST MAN LIVING."

This is a new story of the height of politeness. It is told by Angus Stewart Abbott, the author, and it is, I believe, absolutely true. It is written for the Saturday Evening Post. Mr. Abbott is a Canadian by birth and education, and on first coming to England he was, a most Americans and Canadians are eager to catch a glimpse of the queen

[illegible]

Mr. Abbott beheld the bow of the mighty battleship Minotaur towering over his little rowboat like a precipice and peering over the bow of the old ship of iron was the calm face of a naval officer. The ship was swinging slowly into harbor, and was but a few yards away, coming directly toward the tiny rowboat. In the words of the novel, "to seize the oars and pull for his life" was the work of an instant." When Mr. Abbott was clear of the battleship the naval officer, not a ghost of a smile on his serene face, said, "You are such a coward and the ship crew past, Mr. Abbott," and claims that naval officer to be the politest man living.

turned to his mother's home in Portland he almost immediately pulled off his boots and commenced to hunt about at once for the parlor fender, and seemed tremendously put about, says London Tit-Bits.

His mother, of course, asked him anxiously what he wanted.

"My slippers," said he. "When I was away I left them just down there. Now where are they?"

HOW HUSSARS GOT THE NAME.

Hussars do not derive their names from leaving the twentieth hussars, as cavalry soldiers, were first confined to Hungary. In 145 the crown passed a law compelling the peasants to supply one man out of every twenty of their number, and that man a horseman, to the army of the state. The first hussars were recruited from the inhabitants of the immense Hungarian plains—strong, hard fellows, with sinews supple as steel, who spent their life in the saddle.

but the superior strategy won the day. It is admitted on both sides that it was Cronje who agreed to guarantee the lives of Jameson and his men against the unspoken opposition of several commanders who wanted the invaders condemned as criminals. At the outbreak of the present war Gen. Cronje established the siege of Mafeking, posing up there the British force under Col. Baden-Powell. He soon took command of the Boer forces at Kimberley, and with the exception of his flying trip to Gen. Joubert at Ladysmith he has been on the ground there ever since. Gen. Cronje is described as a typical Boer in appearance, a man of unassuming courage, an expert horseman and an excellent marksman.

WORDS OF WARNING.

The Minneapolis Journal, one of the leading Republican newspapers in the state, has sounded a warning note to the Minnesota congressmen regarding the Porto Rican tariff bill. With the exception of Heatwole, and possibly Fletcher, all the congressmen from this state are bowing to the will of the trusts in their efforts to raise a tariff on the products of Porto Rico entering this country. The Journal points to the fact that Tawney, McCreary, Eddy, Stevens and Morris are arrayed on the side of the trusts, and that their constituents will hold them responsible for their votes. The Journal says:

"There are already some signs that the political future of a number of gentlemen who represent Minnesota in congress may in some degree depend upon their action in respect to the Porto Rican tariff bill. Public sentiment in this state is decidedly against the trusts, and the Fifth-congressional district will feel itself misrepresented if Representative Heatwole does not stand by President McKinley in his broad statesmanship. Bob Dunn, in an editorial in the Princeton Quin, in this week, declares himself as follows:

"Right here we take occasion to remark that the Union will never advocate the election of any man to congress who will disregard the wise and patriotic counsel of President McKinley; and as the building of the trusts. There are thousands of good Republicans in this state who cannot be handmaiden to trusts or their hirelings."

"No names are mentioned, but this appears to be a pretty plain notice to Judge Morris to get in line with the rest of his constituents and be ready to take the consequent opposition."

"Another editorial in the Union says: 'This will be a year when party lines will be closely drawn, but the demands of partisanship will not suffice to shield their rock-ribbed Republicanism at the expense of trust-protected corporations. And every Republican congressman who shall surrender to the blandishments of the trust lobby in this matter must come home with his own party and crawling in his mouth, and he may well come with fear in his heart.'"

The Minneapolis Times takes in a similar strain, concluding a strong article against the bill with these words: "In all kindness we desire to remind our Minnesota representatives that they will find themselves on dangerous ground if their votes are recorded for this measure. Tawney and McCreary may be safe in their rock-ribbed Republicanism, but the Taird, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh are not so certain to go Republican next fall that the gentleman now representing them in congress can afford to take any ground which would be a warning that should be heeded."

The indications at present are that the bill will be defeated if it comes to a vote in the house, and the Republican leaders here in a region that was his unquestioned strength for four years ago, to force the convention in Kansas City for the sake of its effect upon Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska." It takes terms and unaffiliation to reach such a sad conclusion. Think of the Democratic candidate needing additional strength in Missouri, that gave Bryan a plurality of 56,727 in 1896, and on a similar total vote in 1898, gave the Democratic candidate for supreme court a plurality of 35,342. And Nebraska also, that gave a fusion platform of 12,756 in 1896 and increased it to 18,900 in 1898. But Mr. Bryan did not select Kansas City. The committee gave the convention to Kansas City for the sake of its effect upon Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska." It takes terms and unaffiliation to reach such a sad conclusion. not European," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean. "If this barrier is cut," says the Chicago Times-Herald, referring to the Isthmus of Panama, "the United States will demand and enforce the control of the canal, not by the leave of England, but through the consent of Europe, but in virtue of its dominance on this continent."

"The praiseworthy desire of the administration to get rid of whatever obstacles there may be in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to the construction of the Nicaragua canal seems to have made it oblivious of the fact that its method of getting rid of those obstacles is open to fatal objections," says the Chicago Tribune, which adds: "Should the United States be involved in war with some naval power the canal the former has built and is to maintain to be as free to the warships of its adversary as its own. That foreign power can, if it chooses, use the canal as a short cut to reach and ravage the Pacific coast and Pacific islands of the United States. By the Hay-Panama treaty the United States and Great Britain unite in guaranteeing a neutrality which may cost the former dear, and they contract to bring their agreement to the notice of other powers and nations by adhering to it. The American people will have none of these things. They have too much respect for the Monroe doctrine to permit their government to invite foreign governments to unite with it in guaranteeing neutrality to the enemy."

"The Washington Star demands the defeat of the pending treaty, in order that negotiations may be begun for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which should no longer be binding upon the United States, and hamper our action in the future. The Star says: 'To ratify the Hay-Panama treaty, says the Washington Post, 'is to abandon, finally and forever, the Monroe doctrine. It is to acknowledge England's right to say upon what terms the United States shall deal with the American power, and to involve at every future national emergency the interference of Europe.' The Post also asks: 'If this is to be an international canal, a joint property of the great powers, why not have the United States share in the expense of construction and maintenance?' The Post declares that the ratification of the proposed new treaty would be a more perilous blunder than the negotiation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty some years ago. 'It not only puts our hands in the same manner as its predecessor did, but it contemplates also the array of all Europe against us should we at

SURRENDER OF CRONJE

Boer General Capitulated to British Forces and Now a Prisoner.

Only Three Thousand Men ---Will Be Sent to Cape Town.

London, Feb. 27.—It is officially announced that Gen. Cronje surrendered with his whole force unconditionally at dawn this morning. The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Paardeburg, Feb. 27, 7:45 a. m.—Gen. Cronje with all of his force capitulated unconditionally at daylight and is now a prisoner in my camp. The strength of his force will be communicated later. I hope that her majesty's government will consider this event satisfactory, occurring, as it does, on the anniversary of Majuba."

LONDON, Feb. 27, 4:38 p. m.—The secretary of state for war, the marquis of Lansdowne, announced in the house of lords this afternoon that the prisoners captured with Gen. Cronje numbered about 3000 men. Gen. Cronje will be sent to Cape Town.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 5:29 p. m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Paardeburg, Feb. 27, 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.—From information furnished daily to me by the intelligence department, it became apparent that Gen. Cronje's force was becoming more depressed and that the discontent among the troops and the desertion among the leaders were rapidly increasing. This feeling was, doubtless, accentuated by the disappointment caused when the Boer reinforcements which tried to retake Gen. Cronje were defeated by our troops on Feb. 25."

"I resolved, therefore, to bring pressure to bear upon the enemy. Each night, the trenches were pushed forward toward the enemy's laager so as to gradually contract his position, and, at the same time, I bombarded it heavily with artillery, which was yesterday materially aided by the arrival of four 6-inch howitzers which I had ordered up from DeAar."

"In carrying out these measures, a captive balloon gave great assistance by keeping us informed of the positions and movements of the enemy. At 2 a. m. today, a most dashingly advanced and some engineers, supported by the First Gordon Highlanders and Second Shropshires, resulting in our gaining a point some 600 yards nearer the enemy and within about eighty yards of his trenches, where our men entrenched themselves and maintained their positions till morning, a gallant deed worthy of our colonial comrades and which I am glad to say was attended by comparatively slight loss."

"This, apparently, clinched matters, for at daylight today a letter signed by Gen. Cronje, in which he stated that he surrendered unconditionally, was brought to our outposts under a flag of truce."

"In my reply, I told Gen. Cronje he must present himself at my camp and that his forces must come out of their laager after laying down their arms."

"At 7 a. m. I received Gen. Cronje and despatched a telegram to you announcing the fact. In the course of the conversation, he asked for kind treatment at our hands and also that his wife, grandson, private secretary and servants might accompany him wherever he might be sent. I reassured him and told him his request would be complied with. I informed him that a general officer would be sent with him to Cape Town to insure his being treated with proper respect enroute."

He will start this afternoon under charge of Maj. Gen. Prettyman, who the delay is all he has been able to accomplish." The Westminster Gazette, which is inclined to be pro-Boer, says: "Admiration for the desperate valor of Gen. Cronje is mingled with anger at the necessity imposed upon us of purchasing victory at this cost. Let us remember Paardeburg, if we like, but forget Majuba and have done with the whole train of misleading associations and mischievous ideas which gathered around that unhappy memory."

Further details of the dramatic surrender of Gen. Cronje at Paardeburg are eagerly awaited. The Boer commanders' forces are variously estimated at 4000 to 5000.

Speculation is rife as to how soon Lord Roberts will be able to press on to Bloemfontein, but before he enters the capital of the Free State he will undoubtedly have to overcome a powerful force and take strong entrenchments.

The news of Gen. Cronje's surrender was received with unbounded satisfaction at Windsor. The queen immediately telegraphed her congratulations to Lord Roberts and the troops.

There was a much more outward display of rejoicing in the provinces than in London. The Glasgow and Liverpool stock exchanges were greatly excited. The members sang "God Save the Queen" repeatedly and cheered for "Little Boats." Flags were liberally displayed on the municipal and public buildings in all the large towns.

Windsor was very jubilant at the news, which the queen disseminated immediately after it reached her, and the inhabitants seized this occasion of her majesty driving through the town on her way to take a train for a visit to the wounded South African soldiers at the Netley hospital to give vent to their delight.

The queen, who was looking remarkably well, showed evident signs of deep satisfaction, smiling, continually and bowing in response to the congratulatory cheers greeting her on all sides. Her majesty took quantities of flowers to distribute to the wounded.

All the garrison troops and naval personnel showed the news with the liveliest eagerness, soldiers and sailors vying with each other in display of delight.

A letter has been received from a man in the first dragoons, now in South Africa, confirming the rumor that a "British transport" reached Ladysmith during the engagement at Spion Kop. He says the dragoons were the escort of the transport, which was seven miles long, and adds that Gen. Buller knows that he is doing well, and all are willing to follow him in spite of his reverses."

LONDON, Feb. 27.—No one who did not know of Gen. Cronje's surrender would suspect from the appearance of the town of the chief victory of the war. Not a flag is flying, and in front of the places where bulletins are displayed to the public a gloom more than a dozen people stop at a time to read the news. Outside of the war office there is the same absence of enthusiasm, which is due doubtless to the drizzling rain.

In the war office, however, a clerk posted the news of the surrender, and the crowd was waiting, and here the tidings were hailed with considerable enthusiasm, and in an incredibly short time the news had spread all over London.

The lord mayor of London said to the correspondent that the surrender of Gen. Cronje was a foregone conclusion, the news was received with a great sense of relief, and the result of the surrender, he thought, would be the rapid conclusion of hostilities.

In the stock exchange there was much excitement and cheering, but this subsided when the bourse opened. Stocks opened with an upward tendency, but no material improvement in prices, and consols were, strangely, slightly weaker.

NATIVES ATTACK BOERS. Lorenzo Marques, Feb. 26.—A dispatch from Gaborone dated Thursday, Feb. 22, says: "Chief Lincho has reported that he made reprisals upon the Boers near Seke, killing a few men and capturing several wagons and oxen. There were some casualties on both sides."

MASSING AGAINST ROBERTS. Boer Forces From All Quarters Assembling Near Bloemfontein. London, Feb. 27, 4:20 a. m.—The Boers are assembling an army near Bloemfontein with which to dispute the invasion of Lord Roberts. This intelligence comes from Pretoria by way of Lorenzo Marques. The Boers are described as "hastening from all quarters of the two republics." No estimate is made of their numbers, but the withdrawal of the Boers from most of the places from where they have been in contact with the British, and having been said to come from around Ladysmith.

This correspondent estimates that the Boers have 60,000 to 70,000 men in the field. Gen. Buller on Saturday faced the last and strongest positions of the Boers who barred his way to Ladysmith. The strenuous fighting indicates a battle between armies rather than rear guard actions protecting a retreat. On Thursday and Friday he lost forty-three officers killed and wounded, representing probably a total of from 400 to 500 losses.

Gen. White's guns worked on Sunday since Feb. 12. The movement on the veldt away from the railway is becoming increasingly more active. Large numbers of troops, as the grass is burned in. Gen. French has wagon forage for his horses, and even the infantry find such large marches harder than before, as forage is being issued in view of the fact that relief seemed at hand.

THE CLARK HEARING

Attorney General Nolan Given Another Chapter of Inside Political History.

CLERK TOOK A HAND

Supreme Court Clerk Hired to Get Evidence in Wellcome Case.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Attorney General Nolan, of Montana, was recalled in the Clark case today to add to the information already given by him concerning the Montana election laws. This he did, citing all the provisions from the state laws bearing upon this subject.

Mr. Nolan stated that he had given small sums of money to persons who had gone over the state in search of testimony in this case. The money had been supplied by Mr. Campbell. He had also procured $500 from Mr. Campbell as a gift from Daly for the editor of an agricultural newspaper in Helena.

Another item charged to him was $200, which had been advanced to pay the expenses of witnesses in the disbarment proceedings. This money had been received from Campbell and most of it advanced to the state treasurer to secure him for the payment of these expenses.

Mr. Nolan said he had advised the state treasurer to pay these expenses upon the assurance that the expenditure would be made good.

Among others to whom Mr. Nolan's account showed that he had paid advance money for collecting evidence in the disbarment case, was the clerk of the supreme court.

Mr. Foster seized upon this fact to put the witness through a pretty sharp cross-examination to show this official was transcending his official duties, the case being before the court of which he was an official. Mr. Nolan said that the clerk had gone to several points to investigate evidence. He had paid him $25 purely for expenses and not as an addition to his salary.

The question of the payment of $500 to a Helena newspaper was also gone into at length. The money was given to a man named Greenfield, who, it appeared, was a correspondent of some Eastern papers. Mr. Nolan said that after the Whitelaw exposure fifty-two of the fifty-six papers in Montana were ceased in denouncing Mr. Whitelaw, and this condition of affairs being placed before Mr. Daly, he had volunteered to give it.

Mr. Nolan also described a conversation with Greenfield in which he said the latter had told him that Mr. Clark had sought to exchange his (Greenfield's) account of the Whitelaw episode, and that Mr. Clark had offered him $200 for it.

Henry G. Ricker, clerk of the Montana state supreme court, was put on to controvert testimony given by Thomas E. Lyons, to the effect that Mr. Campbell had offered him $500 to make false statements before this committee.

Lyons was now sitting, and on the day of the Whitelaw exposure, when Lyons told him of his connection with the bribery of members of the legislature, Lyons then said, according to the witness, he had "fixed" two members of the legislature, and that and was voted as he wanted him to.

In March last, he said, he had had another conversation with Lyons, in which the latter had told him that he made a little money out of Clark, mentioning $500, and saying that he had not only that amount but more.

Mr. Ricker said that at this time Mr. Lyons also told him that the purchase of the Warner property by C. W. Clark was not bona fide, and that the property was sold for taxes in 1899. On another occasion Lyons told him that he had told Mr. Campbell all he knew of the proceedings in the Clark matter.

On cross-examination, Mr. Ricker said that his interest in the Clark matter was due to the fact that he had assisted in the election of State Senator Warner as an anti-Clark man, and was disgusted with the course he had taken in voting for Clark. What he had done was done with the view of exposing Mr. Warner's conduct.

THE SAPHO HEARING.

Miss Nethersole, Several Sociologists and Dramatic Critics Examined. New York, Feb. 27.—Olga Nethersole, the actress, appeared today in the Center street court, where the examination was resumed into the question as to whether Sapho is an immoral play. She came in with Hamilton Revelle, her leading man, Marcus May, her manager, and Abe Hummel, their attorney. The hearing was private.

The first witness of the session was Mrs. Almon Hensley, president of the Society for the Study of Life. Other witnesses subpoenaed to testify at the hearing were Mrs. Junius Harburger, Mrs. S. M. Harris, of the New York Tribune; Mrs. Amelia M. S. Calkins, of the Study of Life society; and Dr. Elsie F. Church. There were also several dramatic critics among the witnesses.

COMMITTEE APPROVES. Washington, Feb. 27.—The house committee on military affairs today acted favorably on the bill giving one chaplain for each regiment and giving the adjutant general of the army the rank of major general. Favorable action was also taken on the bills providing dentists for the army and abolishing a military hospital at Hot Springs. S. D. Secretary Root was before the committee and spoke in favor of the bill recently submitted by the war department "to increase the efficiency of the army," but final action on the measure was not taken.

CALHOUN RIN DOWN. Fort Scott, Kan., Feb. 27.—Sandy Calhoun, an ex-member of the Twentieth Kansas, was run down on a Memphis passenger train out of this city by officers on a switch engine and arrested, charged with the murder of a man named Barker at Yale, Kan. He was apprehended when the train reached this city, but the officers thought he was a simple patient and released him. Shortly after the train left, they were notified that he was wanted for murder. The company tendered the use of a switch engine and Calhoun was caught at a crossing just out of town.

A Michigan Miracle

Speech Restored after Nearly 13 Years.

Many things appear miraculous that are really the result of natural laws, the workings of which can be accurately predicted. A striking example of this occurred in a prominent Michigan family recently, and there can be no question as to the truthfulness of the narrative since it is attested by Mrs. Harriet Regale, of Ypsilanti, Mich., a sister-in-law of Mr. John Regale, who was Governor of Michigan in 1884. Mrs. Regale said:

Mrs. Harriet Regale.

In 1881 I suffered from a severe illness, during which my voice left me and I did not speak above a whisper for nearly 13 years. I was treated by five local physicians and afterward consulted leading specialists of New York. They diagnosed my case as partial paralysis, stating that the left side of my throat was entirely paralyzed, the right side partially so. For nearly eight years I have suffered from a severe stomach disorder and about a year ago I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

My stomach trouble was relieved, my general health became greatly improved and to my surprise I regained control of my vocal organs. I have never lost my voice since. I am now 71 years of age and have full control of my voice. Signed: Mrs. Harriet Regale, Ypsilanti, Mich.

Serve to me and subscribe before this 10th day of May, 1899, at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, scurvy, neuritis, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

HISSED WILLIAM'S PLAY.

Berliners Receive Emperor's Effort With Tokens of Disapproval.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—The first performance last night of "Der Eisenstein" ("The Iron Tooth") at the Royal theatre, was a notable event socially and artistically. All the tickets had been sold nine days ago, and the house was packed to the doors. The play, which was written by Wilhelm, appeared during the second act and sat almost unobserved and quite alone in the royal orchestra box, screened by the drapery from observation.

After the first act there was complete silence. After the second and third there was vigorous applause, but from the galleries, where the critics and literary people sat and from the second and third galleries, there came a piercing storm of hissing.

The emperor, whose collaboration with Czar, later in the play, is well known, was highly displeased.

DEFENSE OF GRADES

Chief Inspector Reishus Denies Charges Against the Grain Department.

THERE IS NO LAXITY
Figures That Show the Grades Do Command Respect of Buyers.

St. Paul, Feb. 28.—The statement has been printed by some papers that Minnesota wheat grades are deteriorating, and that they do not command the respect of buyers that is under the former grain inspector's administration. The charge has been made that since Chief Grain Inspector Reishus took the office the grades have been uneven and untrustworthy.

The following tables are intended by the department to show whether the accusation that the grades have been lowered or raised is true. An examination of the tables will show that No. 1 northern wheat, sold in October, 1898, at no time came within 1 cent of California wheat, and at one time was 30 cents less. October, 1898, is taken for a comparison during which month the sales were the most numerous.

ENDED IN A KILLING

Bloody Wind-Up of a Washington's Birthday Celebration in Mexico.

EIGHT ARE KILLED
Quarrel Over Arrangement of Flags--The Americans Carry the Day.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—A special to the Tribune from Guaymas, Mexico, says: On Washington's birthday a shooting affray occurred at Pilar de Tierra, in which three Americans and five Mexicans were killed.

From accounts it appears a friendly feeling existed at Pilar, and in order to do honor to the United States it was arranged on Feb. 22 to raise the flags of the two republics together on the flagpole.

The Mexicans were about to pull down the flag when Charles Haggart, who was with the rough riders in Cuba, intervened with a six-shooter in each hand. Firing from both sides immediately ensued, and Haggart was instantly killed.

The Americans held the flag pole and the Mexicans were mortally wounded, but the Americans were killed, and the dance which was to have followed was a failure, as no Mexicans were left to take part in it.

There were less than half a dozen Americans in condition for dancing.

After the shooting, the Americans carried the day.

THE BILL IS PASSED

Porto Rico Tariff Bill Has Been Adopted By the House.

VOTE ON SUBSTITUTE

Showed Majority of Sixteen In Favor of the Measure.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The last day of the struggle over the Porto Rico tariff bill in the house opened at 11 o'clock with almost every member in his seat and a large attendance in the galleries. The leaders on both sides were actively engaged in rallying their forces and making computations upon the final vote, which is to be taken under the order at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Underwood, the Democratic whip, said the result would be very close and turned upon the vote of two or three men on the Democratic side.

Mr. Tamm said the bill would have votes to spare. He said the main danger was in the motion to reconsider. Immediately after the reading of the bill the clerk began reading the bill for amendment under the minute rule.

When section 4 was reached, Mr. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, offered the following substitute for that section:

"Section 4. That on and after the passage of this act, all merchandise coming into United States from Porto Rico and coming into Porto Rico from the United States shall be subject to the several ports of entry upon payment of 15 per cent of the duties which are required, collected and paid upon like articles of merchandise imported from foreign countries, and in addition thereto, upon articles of merchandise of Porto Rican manufacture coming into the United States and withdrawn for consumption or sale upon payment of a tax equal to the interest on the duty imposed on such merchandise or stamps to be purchased and provided by the commissioner of internal revenue at the most convenient place of entry of said merchandise in the United States, and to be effected under such regulations as the commissioner of internal revenue with the approval of the secretary of the treasury shall prescribe, and all articles of merchandise coming into Porto Rico, in addition to the duty above provided, payment of a tax equal in rate and amount to the amount of the duty imposed in Porto Rico upon the articles of Porto Rican manufacture."

Mr. Payne explained that the substitute did two things—first, it reduced the duty to 15 per cent, and it also removed some confusion regarding duties.

Mr. Payne said he still adhered to the opinion that 15 per cent would be better than 10 per cent, because it would raise more money, but 15 per cent was better than nothing.

In answer to a question as to how much the bill would cost, Mr. Payne said the estimate for the original bill was $1,700,000; if that estimate was correct, the substitute would raise about $1,250,000 per annum.

Mr. Payne took occasion to remark that he had given a full explanation of the bill, and he had explained it in a way that he had believed in free trade with Porto Rico at all times, and he had explained it in a way that he had believed in free trade with Porto Rico at all times.

Mr. Berry said the amendment proposed petty instead of grand larceny and the Republic of Porto Rico. He called the bill a "Columbia" bill, which the house had passed over every foot of soil.

The bill was ordered in short speeches by Mr. De Armond, Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Gray, and defeated by Mr. Gray, Mr. Gray, Mr. Brown, who had withdrawn his support, and Mr. Gray.

The Senate amendment was adopted without division.

Mr. Payne offered the additional section agreed upon at the conference of the Republicans Monday night, as follows:

"This act shall be taken and held to be provisional in its purpose and intended to meet a pressing, present need for revenue for the island of Porto Rico, and shall not continue in force after March 1, 1901."

Mr. Payne said the bill was adopted without division.

Mr. Payne offered a preamble to the bill, which was adopted without division.

DOINGS OF THE SENATE.

Changes in Financial Bill Explained.

Philippines Question Discussed.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate convened today, Mr. Aldrich called up the conference report on the financial bill and made an explanation of the differences between the senate bill and the conference bill.

The first change was in the section defining the standard. It was, he said, purely a verbal change in phraseology, and undoubtedly strengthened the section.

The second change was a provision inserted in the bill making it the express duty of the secretary of the treasury to maintain the reserve fund in order that the party of United States money should be preserved.

Mr. Aldrich brought the separate bill to impose that duty, but the house conference insisted that the language should be incorporated in the bill in terms.

The next change provided that the gold reserve might be held in gold coin or in bullion. The first two would be held in gold coin, but the third would be held in bullion. The gold coin would not be present until the gold coin was sufficient in quantity to maintain the reserve in gold coin.

After Mr. Aldrich's explanation of the conference report, the senate passed the bill by a vote of 75 to 15.

Mr. Aldrich addressed the senate on the Philippines question. He strongly advocated the extension of the islands by this government.

A SHAKING UP.

British Columbia Ministry Dismissed and Martin Named For New Premier.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 28.—Lieutenant Governor McInnis has refused to sanction the commission secured by the government party, led by Mr. Smith, with five members of the opposition, by which power was to be retained, and has dismissed the ministry. The choice of the new premier is not announced, but it is generally believed that James Dunsmuir will be the premier and Joseph Martin again the attorney general.

James Dunsmuir has been named by the government as the premier of British Columbia, and the appointment will probably be announced in the legislature today.

PECULIAR DAMAGE CASE.

Andrew Soderlund Charges Fraud and Conspiracy in Land Deal.

Another land deal in which fraud and conspiracy is alleged was shown in a suit begun this morning in district court by Andrew Soderlund against John P. Peterson and John E. Peterson. In his complaint Soderlund says that he is the owner of the south of the city of section 25-18, and that on June 1, 1898, John E. Peterson came to him and said that he was in a position to exchange this property for some farm lands near Minneapolis, and that the trade would be to Soderlund's advantage. In order to carry out the deal Peterson suggested that Soderlund give him a blank warranty deed to the property that he might be in shape to make the exchange readily. Soderlund thereupon signed a deed to the property, leaving blank the consideration and the space for the name of the grantee.

The deal was abandoned, however, but according to Soderlund that was not the end of it. He claims that Peterson put the name of John P. Peterson, his son, in as grantee, filled in the consideration with a fictitious figure, and then recorded the deed. Soderlund claims that this was a conspiracy to defraud him out of the property, as he had never sold the property to the Petersons, and had never had any consideration for the deed that appeared to transfer the property to John P. Peterson.

Later, he claims, the defendants sold the land to Ashland parties for $100,000, and when he asked them about it they said that they had only received $125 for the property, and offered him 25c of that amount. The Ashland parties found out how the matter stood, he claims, and forced the Petersons to give up the $100,000, whereupon they decided the property back to John P. Peterson. Soderlund claims that he was damaged in the sum of $200 by this deal, and he wants the court to declare the deed from himself to Peterson void. Eckman & Stevenson are the attorneys.

Accepts a Call.

M. B. Answorth, of Watertown, S. D., who preached last Sunday morning, evening to a large audience at the First Christian church, has accepted a ministerial call from the church, and will begin his work here April 1. Mr. Answorth last year resigned a call from Augusta, Ga., at a salary of $300, preferring to remain with the brethren at Watertown. He is highly spoken of as a minister of the gospel.

SUES FOR DAMAGES

Alvin T. Thoits Wants $10,000 From Owners and Managers of News Tribune.

FORCED OUT OF IT

Alleges That Force, Intimidation and Threats Were Used Against Him.

Alvin T. Thoits, formerly publisher of the Duluth News Tribune, this morning began a suit for $10,000 damages against G. G. Bartley, Luther Mendenhall and Millie Bunnell, claiming that he has been damaged in that sum because the defendants forcibly threw him out of the control of the paper. He claims that on Nov. 14, 1899, he was in the peaceable and quiet possession of the paper, publishing it and making a profitable thing out of it, when the defendants conspired together and took possession of the plant by force, intimidation and threats, and put him out. They not only put him out, he says, and refused to permit him to continue to publish the paper, but they deprived him of the opportunity of collecting a large amount of indebtedness that was due him by publishing notice to the public not to pay him. For all of these things he asks the court to grant him damages in the sum named.

This suit is an echo of the change in management of the News Tribune on the date mentioned, Nov. 14, when the late Mr. Thoits stepped down and out and Millie Bunnell took hold. In the suit Mr. Thoits says that he did not step out, but was pushed out, and he wants damages from the defendants for what he claims was their illegal manner of eliminating him from the Duluth newspaper field. Baldwin & Baldwin are attorneys for Thoits.

BRUNER'S TITLE

Suit to Test It Is Begun in the District Court.

The suit involving the validity of the assignment of a block of personal property taxes by the county to N. S. Bruner was begun in district court yesterday afternoon. The Crown Lumber company begins the suit, and it is against the board of county commissioners. It takes the form simply of a suit to clear title to certain lands in 24-19. It is alleged that the county claims some interest in the property by virtue of a personal property tax judgment against one Frank W. Eaton, from whom the company acquired its title to the property. S. D. Allen is the attorney.

In its answer, which has not yet been filed, the county set up the tax judgment, and says that it has not been paid, and in its reply the company says that the county assigned the judgment to N. S. Bruner, with whom it has settled the tax, and that, therefore, the land is free from any claim on the taxes.

The issue, therefore, is narrowed down to the validity of the assignment of the taxes to Bruner, and this point will be fought out when the case comes to trial. It has been placed on the calendar for the March term of district court, and it will probably come to trial then.
